2. Comments.

Took great care to the overall class capabilities while also making sure we all had a good understanding of the curriculum leading up to any exam.

Very caring about us passing. Does everything he can to help us learn and pass, leaves it up to us to just put in the effort.

Great personality and cares about students

He is a great professor. He always asks to make sure we are understanding the content, and asks if we would like him to explain it in a different way so we can better understand the topic.

Very knowledgeable instructor. More than willing to help students out whenever they don't understand something and wanting them to succeed in understanding the concepts by taking small breaks in between to ask the class if someone needs anything to be gone over again. Plenty of extra credit opportunities also really helps out a lot. Exams and handouts are a bit difficult to understand sometimes due to complex wording.

I like his teaching methods, he explains everything pretty clearly.

Specified what needed to be clarified

Overall, I think Abhishek Ramchandani is a really good professor. He clearly knows what he's doing and understands the material well. He's also very friendly and always willing to help and explain things if you don't understand, which I really appreciated.

One thing I would say is that since this was my first time taking an accounting course, some of the material felt a little hard to follow at times. Even though he explained it, I think it could sometimes be broken down in a simpler way for students who are completely new to the subject. That would make it easier to understand from the beginning.

But overall, I can tell he really cares about his students and is trying to help everyone succeed. I also feel like he wants to keep improving his teaching, which I respect. In general, I had a good experience in this class.

This professor was super understanding and responded to emails quickly. I could tell that he wanted every student to succeed and that he did everything he could to help us all understand.

I don't have any questions, everything was self-explanatory.

Content is well-paced and going to lectures were helpful.

good in general

10. If you answered 'Other' for the question above, please specify.
nope
The class is technically in person, but the professor gives the option to not come. If you come, you get the notes you need, if not, you can use that time to do other things, but you'll be missing out on the notes cause he doesn't post them. Pretty much, its optional to show up to class.
